

Kusikuy & Raymichay: Celebration

As you read these words, you may begin to notice a natural sense of lightness, openness, or curiosity arising within you.

You are now entering a phase of fun and joy: Celebration. Celebration. Celebration.

This is an ongoing and lifelong process. You do not stop integrating, expanding, or growing. Instead, you become more efficient, more fluid, and more skillful at integrating life as it unfolds in real time.

Allow integration to become a renewal process. A process where you observe, work, grow, and naturally allow yourself to become more joyful, more playful, and more alive.

When celebration is consciously integrated as part of the cycle of growth, it supports you in seeing the bigger picture and in recognizing meaning, purpose, and opportunity for growth in every situation.

A Final Invitation

It is important to follow up with yourself and to commit fully to your inner work and your inner knowing.

The only way out of the labyrinth is through the same door you entered.

This means knowing yourself truly and deeply. Every spiritual tradition and philosophy shares this core teaching:

Know thyself.

Know your emotions, feelings, thoughts, beliefs, and limits, along with their causes and their consequences.

Knowing is not conceptual.

Knowing is experiential.

It is felt and embodied. It develops through your relationship with your emotional and intuitive guidance system.

It is my sincere wish that you continue to meet yourself, and the medicine, at this level of commitment again and again, opening the door to greater freedom and to all the beauty life offers moment by moment.

Thank you once again for your trust, your dedication, and your inner work. Your presence and your vibration are already making a difference in this world here and now.

If any of these suggestions or perspectives resonate with you, or if you have any questions, please reach out at any time. You are always welcome to connect, whether to talk, spend time together, or speak over the phone or Zoom.

I personally resonate with and draw from a wide range of paths in a direct and lived way. These include Hinduism, Buddhism, Q'ero Shamanism, Christ Consciousness teachings, neurolinguistics, and all healing or uplifting understandings that genuinely resonate with the heart and the being.
